surfboards by erin adams for imagine tile surfboards is a high fired ceramic wall tile collection featuring several effects typically found in high end, hand crafted tiles, such as selective crazing and a raised dry line.

erin adams, artist + founder of erin adams design

"inspired by the timeless designs of italian designer, gio ponti, combined with the traditional cuerda seca technique of adding texture and a crackly white glaze, "surfboards" is traditional yet modern at the same time."
